Selections for the AVID class are based on motivation, grade point average, test scores, attendance, classroom behavior, schedule difficulty, application and if needed, an interview. Applicants not immediately accepted into the AVID program may be placed on a waiting list for openings at the end of each semester, but all students are eligible to apply again the following academic year. Decisions about AVID selection will be made within approximately 1-2 weeks following the submittal of the application.

I have read the above information about the AVID program. If my student is selected for the program I will support both my student and the AVID program to the best of my ability.
